"Committed to empowering communities"

ANNUAL REPORT 2019-2020

AN OVERVIEW OF INSPIRE'S WORK

Our primary objective is to uplift the poor through education, micro-enterprise, access to healthcare and other enrichment opportunities and we do this by strengthening local leaders who have a proven track record of effective work and a relationship with local people.

We work in 10 states/provinces in India. We try and keep our administrative offices and costs to a minimum so that we can direct the majority of our funds directly to our workers and partners in these communities to be used for the welfare of our beneficiaries. Our National Director operates out of New Delhi and we have a North India Director and South India Director reporting to him. All three Directors visit our beneficiary communities and conduct training sessions for them, help them plan and implement goals better and also encourage and enrich them through mentoring, personal home visitations and other support. In this way we maintain personal and regular relationships with all our workers, partners and local beneficiaries.

ADULT LITERACY

Our Literacy curriculum is indigenous and specific to the needs of each community. We begin by identifying problems in a community and build our literacy lessons around addressing these issues. Our curriculum is holistic in its approach and our purpose is to alleviate poverty and improve the quality of life for India's most neglected people groups.

In 10 months, an illiterate person can be brought to a standard four reading level. They also learn numeracy, understanding contracts, creating healthy habits, hygiene, and nutrition. We nurture women's self-help groups that provide micro loans to the community. As our learners grow in the ability to read and comprehend, they also grow in wisdom, empowerment, and self- reliance.

ADULT LITERACY RAJASTHAN POJECT

In Rajasthan we have 25 teachers and 1 Coordinator and in Tamil Nadu we have 15 teachers and 1 coordinator. Each year, we aim to educate 1,000 adults in the Bhil Tribe of Rajasthan. 91% of the 1,090 Bhil learners from 2019 completed the 10-month course!

Educational Assistance: Champa Kumari (Report of Student – Nursing GNM)

Inspire also had the opportunity to invest in Champa Kumari. She was enrolled in a course in General Nursing & Midwifery (GNM) in a well-established Nursing institute called KNN Nursing in Bangalore. Champa joined as a nursing student in the month of January, 2017, and has grown tremendously since we saw her in the village last year. In almost a year she has been able to learn Basic English (reading & writing), as the Nursing School has English Language as one of the subjects.

She has now completed GNM with a 60.8 aggregate, which means she has done well according to the Indian evaluation system. She has learned how to treat patients, maintain a ward room, housekeeping, cleaning wounds, first aid, giving injections, making a patient's bed etc.

We were very pleased to hear that she is already assisting the women of her community with basic medical care at their homes like dressing and cleaning wounds etc along with spreading awareness and teaching about health and hygiene. She has applied for a job in the Local Hospital to serve the Bhil tribe and love and support them medically. She will be a great support to her husband in his work

Educational Assistance: Angel Singh (Progress Letter from a student of BSc Nursing)

Respected Sir,

Greetings from Dehradun, I am so glad to share my progress and learning with you, First of all I am thankful to you as these new learning are with your support. I have completed my 8 months of 1st year from which 6 months was of academic study and 2 months was of clinical duties, so during these 8 months I have learned so much and actually came to know about the real meaning of nursing especially during clinical rotation.

I am doing good by the grace of God during my 8 months of training period I had my 1st semester in which I performed good looking forward to do best and had some cultural programs also in which I won 2 times and performed well in all.

During the month of April and May I had my clinical duties in which I have learned so much and I had really enjoyed that time helping people and caring patients, the happiness after caring a patient is different.

I had been posted in different wards during my clinical duties:-

Blood Bank

Blood Bank is the heart of the Hospital as it Stores the important components of the blood kept separately and stores up to a fix limit of time. I learned all these things types of components their period of storage and also when the donors come how to investigate it, what are the steps to donate blood and who can and who cannot donate blood, I talked to the donors who came there and came to know and why and for which condition they are donating blood. Learned to check blood group also and handling of blood.

Pathology and Central Lab

As Patho means disease and Logy means Study so first of all I learnt the basic thing of pathology lab i.e. venipuncture and in first day of my patho duty I learned it and also I learned and performed urine test, urine pregnancy test, Typhoid, Malaria and HIV test which are done by blood samples and basic thing is that in which vial blood should be taken for the examination so these were the some procedures which I have learnt.

Dressing and Minor OT

In dressing and minor OT I got an opportunity to learn many things so this was the place where I actually came to know about the physical pain I saw many different minor OTs some of them are sewing up a cut, biopsy of breast lump etc. I also learned and then did some of the dressings and cut the sutures. I also learned about different type of instruments medicines and wounds.

CSSD

Learned about sterilization techniques, time and pressure of the machine used for autoclaving.

Emergency

Female Surgical Ward

Female Medicine Ward

Male Medicine Ward

Male Surgical Ward

First of all these are the wards sections of the hospital so first thing what I learned is to talk to the patients and their attendants so that I can maintain a good IPR (interpersonal relationship) so that the patient can openly and easily share his problems and his details which is very necessary for the treatment and as being a student I was also having requirements of the collage one of them is NCP in which I have to ask the patient about his problems, his details like identity, family history, personal history, economic status Etc. and plain the nursing diagnosis regarding it and give care to the patient accordingly, it was the basic need for me and I did it really well and I learned about many things and many procedures like care of the patient, pre operative patient and post operative patient, personal hygiene, cannulization, catheterization, nebulization, insertion of nasogastric tube, to check blood glucose level, to check TPR and SPO2 level, Blood transfusion, bed care given to patient , comfort devices used for patient, to perform ECG and also learnt about many medicine and medications and learnt to give injection through IM and IV, observed and learned about the instrument and objects kept in different places in hospital and in ward like humidifier, vacuum etc.

Semi-Private Ward

Recovery Ward

Health Education

During the clinical the time I gave 2 Health Education given to the Patients and their Relatives and also got a very good response from them.

BeLS (Basic Emergency Life Support Program)

Nutrition Practical

I also had 1 day BeLS (Basic Emergency Life Support Program) training from the Max super specialty hospital, Dehradun and got a certificate from them after clearing their BeLS paper. I had my nutrition practical in which we made therapeutic diet low calories high fiber liquid diet, mix vegetable soup. In which I did good and answers the question regarding our mix veg. soup to the teachers and scored good marks.

SPORTS PROJECT

Under the Sports Project, in partnership with a nationally recognized soccer player, (he's the 3rd best juggler in India), we mentored 24 boys who attended a summer coaching program, ranging from 6-16 years. On a weekly basis, we engage with 120 students from local community schools.

INCOME GENERATION PROJECT: Kesavan

Inspire set up and supported an income generation project in Chennai, Tamil Nadu with one of its staff, Kesavan. We set up a small binding unit with a sewing machine and other accessories where Kesavan binds and repairs old and damaged books and generates income to support him and his family. Our desire is to not just to generate income for him through this project but to empower him to expand this initiative into something sustainable to improve his economic conditions and possibly help and train others also in the future.

T Kesavan was born in Tiruvannamalai district in Tamil Nadu in 1981. His dad passed away in 1994 leaving his wife and four children. Kesavan was just twelve years old then and went on to study till class Ten in a government school. Due to financial problems he eventually had to discontinue his education and do some work to support his family. He worked as construction labourer. He came to Chennai in 1998 and started his work in a press for some years where he learned to stitch leather. He joined inspire in 2005 helping with packing books and other print material. He slowly learnt many other jobs dealing with transportation, bank related work, container stock maintenance etc.

With help and support from Inspire, Kesavan then started the Leather binding and Book repair project. He already had experience and had been trained in the press where he worked earlier which helped him set this up The quality of his binding is very good with perfect finishing and timely delivery that has helped him not only retain existing customers but also add new customers. The average income of the year 2017 has almost doubled as compared to the previous year .

Inspire has also helped him and his family personally. When his mother fell sick in 2015 and was diagnosed with cancer, we helped him partially with the medical expenses and today she is doing well by God's grace. She is now living in her native village, a few miles away from Chennai and he visits her periodically and takes care of her needs. He takes her for medical checks regularly. He was married to Devaki in 2016 and they have a beautiful daughter Ria Jessica.
